PRAY 3000 Prayer Campaigne for Priestly Vocations
It's not too late to make a prayer pledge in Pray3000! Bishop Byrne wants 3,000 or more Catholics in our diocese to commit to praying for an increase in priestly vocations. One of the most critical needs for the future of our diocese is to ordain faithful and joyful priesats to shepherd the next genertion of Catholics. To make your prayer pledge visit: myvocations.com/pray

DIOCESAN STRATEGIC LISTENING SESSION
We will be holding a listening session on Tuesday November 17th from 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. in the St. Joan of Arc School big hall. The purpose of the listening session is to review the different models that could possibly be implemented to realign the working relationships of the parishes of the Diocese of Springfield as developed through the Diocesan Strategic Initiative. Everyone is welcome. Can't make this date? We are listing other times in the local area.

THE CREED PART 2

When we look deep into the Creed, we can see how it grounds us and reminds us that our beliefs and choices do matter. In the cosmic battle of how the world desires us to live and in what we should or shouldn't believe in. The Creed tells a different narrative. It assumes that there is a plot to life and that we are here for a reason. It proclaims that the universe is not here by random chance but was brought into existence by the one true God "the maker of heaven and earth," and is moving in a certain direction according to God's plan. It also presumes that the divine plan was fully revealed in God's Son, the "one Lord Jesus Christ" who "became man" to show us the pathway to happiness and eternal life. The Creed also states how Jesus came "for us men and for our salvation" and to bring "forgiveness of sins." This admission that we need to be saved tells us that something went terribly wrong. The story of the Creed tells of the intense conflict that has been raging since the beginning of time. The battle between good and evil, between God and the serpent (see genesis 3:15, Revelation 12:1-9), The Creed is reminding us that our little lives are caught up in this much larger story, and we each have our own role to play. The question is, how well will I play my part? How well will you play your part? At the end of our lives, we will stand before the Lord Jesus Christ who "will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead" and at that moment, all our life choices will be weighed in balance before the Divine Judge, and we will receive our just reward or punishment for how we lived. So, the next time you profess your faith at Mass in the Creed remember you are declaring that you will strive not to live like the rest of the world but to give your wholehearted allegiance to the Lord: "I believe in one God…" In order to give the Creed its proper attention we will finish it off next week with part 3.
Have a blessed week, Jules.
